the Taste of Everybody.

Read This List Carefully, and, When You Find What You Want, Make up Your Mind to Have It.

For several months past we have been negotiating with various parties with a view of purchasing from them choice and acceptable articles, suitable for gifts to our subscribers at the time of the enlargement and change of name of this paper; and we now have the pleasure of announcing that we have perfected arrangements whereby we are enabled to offer

The Most Attractive Inducements to Subscribers Ever Given By Any Paper In the United States!

THE COUNTY PAPER IS now the Largest, the Handsomest and the Best paper published in the State outside of the large cities; it is all that a county paper should be; we can say without vanity that it is a credit to Helt county; and every citizen of the county, without regard to politics or religion, should feel a personal interest in mcreasing its circulation,-thereby enabling its publishers to maintain it at its present high standard and to add such other improvements as may from time to time suggest themselves.. Every copy of this paper which goes abroad will instantly attract the attention of all who see it; and its beauty, its size, and the excellence of its reading matter will advertise the fact that in this portion of the West there are intelligent people, who have splendid schools and churches and cosy homes, surrounded by orchards laden [with choicest truits, and fields of fine wheat and corn, and pastures in which roam fat cattle and hogs, - with soils of unsurpassed fertility and a climate famed for its healthfulness,-in whose midst thousands more of good people, who are now wearing away their lives on the bleak hill-ides of the East, can find a welcome and obtain homes of their own for a mere nominal sum. To attract to us good citizens from other States will be one of the main aims of THE COUNTY PAPER, and in this work it hopes to be largely aided by its subscribers. Our citizens are composed of people from almost every State ingthe Union, and every subscriber to THE COUNTY PAPER should send it each week lafter read. by Barnard and others. Large type; ing it, to some friend in the State whence he came, whom he thinks would be likely attracted here to find a home.

Our first aim, however, is to increase our subscription list at home until THE dertul stories of the thousand and one COUNTY PAPER is a welcome visitor to every fireside in Holt county. There are Twenty-five Hundred people in the county who ought to take THE COUNTY page illustrations. Cloth binding in and yet which will set you to thinking. PAPER, but who do not. We desire to appeal to each one of these people, in order to show him that it is to his interest to take the paper. The plea of poyerty will not avail as an excuse for not doing so, as the inducements offered below are so liberal that, in many cases, the subscriber not only gets THE COUNTY PAPER for nothing, but is actually paid to take it. How we can atford to make these gifts does not concern the general public. "Never look a gift horse in the mouth" is a saying as old as it is wise. Let it suffice that we get everything honestly and that we are willing to share our good fortune with our sabscribers.

Below will be found a list of the Gifts we offer to every sabscriber who pays Two Dollars in advance for a year's subscription to THE! COUNTY PAPER. Some of the Gifts are for old subscribers who renew; others arefter new susoribers. A full explanation of how the Gifts are awarded will be found at the bottom of the List of Gifts.

NO. 9. "The Perfect Shakespeare"

To any subscriber, new or old, who will pay us $3 50, cash in advance, we will send THE COUNTY PAPER one year and also present him with a copy of The Perfect Shakespeare. This edition of Shakespeare's works is by far the best and most complete ever issued. It is carefully prepared from the earliest and more modern editions, selected where commentators have differed as to the sense of obscure or doubtful passages, from those readings which the ables critics believe to be the mest Shakespearean and best suited to a popular edition. Illustrated with 30 Large Engravings, designed by Jone Coxes, the celebrated artist and engraver, and a steel portrait of Shakespeare.

We have used the term "Perfect" as applicable to this dition, and any one that will examine it will see that it well merits the title; and, indeed, is the only edition; that fully deserves the title of "Pertect." There are numerous editions of this wonderful writer's works, got up in all tyles, and at every price. But, unfortunately, they are all more or less faulty. From some editions many of the strongest passages are omitted in defor-nce to squeamleb namby-pambyism. In other editions many scenes are transposed, till the plays are made, like Joseph's coat, a thing "of shreds and patches." But in this Edition, the "Perfect" Shakespeare, all the Posms—all the Plays—all the Characters—all the Language—are given unabridged, clear and perfect as they originally sprang from the august brow of this Jove of Poets—the sublime Sheakspeare. It is not necessary at this late day to say aught in praise of Shakespeare's works : for they are universally admitted to be the grandest efforts of any human mind. Works that have been enlogized by Ben. Johnson, by Dryden, by Addison, by Milton (Prince of Poets,) who has heautifully written of him as "Sweetest Shakespeare-Nature's child-needs no eulogy from meaner men. They present an epitome of ill buman passions, motives, actions and expressions. None are too high, none too w to miss being instructed al well as delighted by the plays and poetry of Shakes-The

After disposing of about 100,000 of the Caskets, which sold as rapidly as they could be thrown on the market, the New York firm was overtaken with financial difficulties and were unable to take the remainder. This made it necessary to dispose of them at any sacrifice, and we have secured a tew of them for the

NO. 11. The Peoples' Encyclopedia-

To any subscriber, new or old, who will pay us $8.50, each in advance.

we will send THE COUNTY PAPER one year and present a set set of Chambers's Encyclopædia, in Fiftee: Volumes of about 800 pages each, fine type, closely but clearly printed, and handsomely and substantially bound in cloth. This is the publication (with the exception of the American Additions) which has been so extensively advertised for the past year under the title of Library of Universal Knowledge. It is a full and complete reprint of the Edinburg, Scotland. 1883 edition of Chambers's Encyclopacitia. When, about ten months ago, the American Book Exchange announced their intention of publishing this immense work in fifteen volumes and selling them at Fifty Cents a Volume, people were no humbug or swindle about it. The new price was so tremendously lower (being less than one-third of the old price) than the price at which it had tormerly been sold, that people could not believe it possible that they could be manufactured for the price named. When the first volume made its appearance people examined it closely, found it to be well and clearly printed, on thin but strong paper, and strongly and substantially bound in darable cloth. Still they shook their heads and doubted and predicted that the publishers would go into bankruptcy before they finished the fitteen volumes. But steadily every two or three weeks a new volume made its appearance, and, as time wore on, people began to gain confidence, the sales increased rapidly toward the last, until now the fifteen volumes are fluished and are on our table before us as we write. Notwithstanding the rapidity with which they were rushed through the press there was no slighting of the work, and every volume is a model of mechanneal execution. Upwards of one hundred thousand copies have now been sold, and the publishers say that this is but the beginning, as they intend to sell a million copies. Nor is this improbable. These books constitute a library in themselves. Whether a man has other books or not, he should have these, for they contain information upon almost every subject within the range of human knewledge; and, as the subjects are alphabetically arranged, any of them can be turned to in a moment. Formerly the possession of an Encyclopaedia like that of Chambers's or Appleton's was reserved for only the wealthy; but since the during innovation of the Laterary Revolution in publishing Chambers's or Appleton's was reserved for only the wealthy; bers's Encyclopsedia in fifteen volumes at Fitty Cents a volume (with ten cents a volume added for postage to those who cannot call for them at the publication office) almost any man can become the owner of these coveted books. THE COUNTY PAPER most earnestly wishes that every family in Holt county may have a set of these volumes; and it is proud and happy that it has an opportunity to offer them to its sub-cribers at a price considerably lower than is charged by the publishers. To demonstrate: The very lowest price in cash at which these books can be bought of the publishers in New York is Fifty Cents per volume - making s v m and a half dollars for the fifteen volumes. To this price persons outside of New York city must add the cost of sending them by which is ten cents a velume. This amounts to one and a half dollars, making the total cost of the Encyclopsedia, to persons in Holt county, Nine Dollars. And this is the very lowest price at which they can be bought. But by availing ourselves of a very liberal offer made us by the publishers, whereby we are permitted to pay a considerable portion in advertising, we are able to offer the Encyclopaedia and a year's subscription to THE COUNTY PAPER for Fitty Cents less than any one else would have to pay for the Encyclopaedia alone! In other words, we furnish the Encyclopaedia and THE COUNTY PAPER one year, for only Eight and a half Dollars, which is Fifty Ceuts less than the lowest cash price of the Encyclopaedia, postage added. It is not necessary to allude further to this branch of the subject; every reader will instantly see the point, and we hope that hundreds of them will avail themselves of this opportunity to procure bloks so essential to every intelligent hossehold.—We must add one other thought—though we have already said so much. The editor of THE COUNTY PAPER owns both Appletons's Cyclopaedia and Cham-The former is in sixteen volumes and cost hits ninety six dollars. The latter is in fitteen volumes and cost him nine dollars. Yet if he were forced to give up one or the other he would keep Chambers's! It contains more reading matter than Appleton's; the subjects are treated more intelligibly; the print is just as clear; and, the volumes weighing so much less, are vastly more comfortable to handle.

TANY one who would like to get the above described Chambers's Encylopaedia without the payment of any cash whatever, can do so by bringing us the names of thirty new subscribers, at Two Dollars each, cash. Each of these new subscribers will be entitled to a gift the same as other new subscribers.

An Elegant Top Buggy.

For Eighty-Five Dollars, each in advance, we will send THE COUNTY PAPER one year and also present the subscriber with his choice of three different styles of Top Buggies - a picture of one of which is shown elsewhere—the subscriber to pay freight from Cincianati, Ohio. Pictures of the other two styles can be seen at the office of THE COUNTY PAPER. These Buggies are manufactured by T. T. Haydock, the celebrated Cincinnati manufacturer, and the lowest cash price at the manufactory is $110 for each. It will thus be seen that we furnish them for 225 less than they can possibly be bought for, and throw in a year's subscription to The County Paper besides. Any one who wants a good buggy will never have a better opportunity than this to secure it for so little money. All these Buggies have Leather Quarters; Rubber Roof and Curtains; Trimmed in Leather r Blue Cloth, as desired; Sarven Patent Wheels, Vest Springs and Axles. In short, they are made for service as well as display, and will last well and give satisfaction. The manufacturer gives a written Warrast with each Buggy that if a wheel, spring or axle breaks within one year from date of purchase, on account of bad material, it can be returned to him and he will send a new one.

Take Particular Notice.

All the books offered as clifts by THE COUNTY PAPER will be ordered by us from the publishers from time to time as we may have call for them. We shall probably order about every two weeks. This plan is rendered necessary in order to prevent us from accumulating books which our subscribers do not want. We have no means of judging in advance what books they will select. Those subscribers who select books as gifts will inform us or our agents what books they want, at the time they pay their subscriptions, and if we do not have them on hand we will send for them in our next order and forward them to the subscribers as soon as we receive them.

Concluding Appeal.

Now, Good People of Holt and neighboring counties, The County Paper is efore you. You see what it is and it speaks for itself. We promised that it should be the Largest, the Haudsomest, and the Best County Paper in the State. With becoming modesty, we claim that we have fulfilled our promise. No citizen of Holt county will be ashasted to send THE COU TY PAPER abroad as an index of the intelligence of our people. We confess that we are proud of this paper, and we believe our pride will be shared by all our subscribers.

But not only do we furnish our readers the best county paper in the State: we also offer the most liberal Gifts to subscribers ever presented by any paper in the United States, so far as our knowledge extends. Our object in this is to largely swell our subscription list. We want more subscribers—a GREAT MANY more and we want our present subscribers to aid us in getting them. We ought to have a thousand more subscribers in Holt county, and we can secure them if our present subscribers will only aid us by showing the paper to their neighbors and telling them of the pleasure they derive every week from reading it. We hereby appoint every one of our subscribers our agent, and we urge each one to intrest himself or herself in our behalf. Just think of this: if each of our subscribers will send us just one name we will have nearly three thousand subscribers; and then we can-and will-make THE COUNTY PAPER still better than it now is,vastly more so. Though we know our subscribers feel kindly toward us, we stimulate their good will by offering them inducements, in the shape of valuable gifts, for all they do fer us. These Gifts are so various that, among them all, no one can fail to find just what he or she may want. We offer Gifts for securing all the way from one subscriber up to fifty, and ranging in value from 25 cents up to $110. Good Friends, in helicized us you also help yourselves. The more subscribers you get for us, the better we will make the paper for you. And there is not a subscriber on our list who cannot send us at least one new name. And "overy little helps" If enough subscribers will send us new names to make an average of one name from each, we will be satisfied. Read over carefully the foregoing list of Gif's; and if you find the name of some hing you want which an be had by see ring a few subscribers for us, make up your minds to have it and go to work and get it. It will take very little trouble. No one can look through The County Paper without being pleased with it; and when the further in tucement is held out that every subscriber is allowed his choice of a number of valuable gifts, there is not one intelligent man out of twenty who will refuse to consecute. The left Young ledges and contingent man by very little effort, secure subscribe. Try it! Young ladies and gentlemen can, by very little effort, secure a large number of those charming books, the names of which are sure to make

Very Broll To Think Of.

If not above being to the by a man, use Dobbin's Elective to ap next wash-day. Used without any wash boiler or rubbing board and used differently from any other soap over made. It seems very droll to think of a quiet, erderly two hours light work on wash-day, with no heat and no steam, or smell of the washing through the house, instead of a long day's hard work but hundreds of thousands of women, from Nova Scotia to Texas, at ve proved for themseives that this is doer by using Dob-bin's Electic Soap. Don't bay it, how-ever if foo set in your ways to use it according to directions, that are as simple as to seem almost ridiculous and so easy that a girl of twelve years can do a large wash without being tired. It positively will not injure the finest fab-ric, has been before the public for fif-teen years, and its safe doubles every year.
